Gig
Keeping Up with the Fast-Paced Gig Climate

The rise of the gig economy has been stratospheric. Anyone with a smartphone can apply to perform services such as ride-sharing, food delivery, or menial tasks around the house, all of which can be done on the gig worker's own schedule.

This mobile phone–dependent work style is a perfect fit for workers who want to make their own hours and prefer a nontraditional work environment. This type of work also benefits from a nontraditional application process that eliminates the resumes and in-person interviews and gets workers ready to serve customers fast.

Automated, Flexible High Volume Hiring On the Go

Automation

Fountain's applicant tracking system is built with hourly workers in mind, with automated scheduling, text, and email reminders to keep applicants engaged and informed. Hiring managers can automate background checks, video interviews, and document signing thanks to Fountain's embedded features.

Mobile-First

Gig workers are always on the go and rely on their mobile devices for both personal and professional communication. Fountain's mobile-first platform lets applicants apply to jobs anywhere, anytime in just a few swipes or even by text message.
